Clinton Global Initiative invites Hart's energy policy expert

HOUSTON, TX (September 22, 2008) – Hart Energy Consulting expert Michael McAdams has been invited by the Clinton Global Initiative (CGI) to be a table facilitator at their 2008 annual meeting, September 23-26 in New York City.

The CGI Annual Meeting brings together a diverse group of the world's most distinguished leaders from government, business, and civil society to examine today's most pressing global challenges and transform that awareness into tangible action. Energy and Climate Change is one of the four focus areas of this year's meeting.

McAdams will facilitate discussions on climate change solutions pertaining to clean transport. As such, he will join working sessions participants including influential industry and non-profit organizations leaders like John Melo, Chief Executive Officer, Amyris Biotechnologies, Vijay V. Vaitheeswaran, Correspondent, The Economist, Nancy Kete, Director, World Resources Institutes & Embarq, and Beth Lowery, Vice President of Environment, Energy and Safety, General Motors.

McAdams, executive director government affairs for Hart Energy Consulting, is a recognized expert on energy policy and biofuels and has been playing an active role on Capitol Hill, representing a wide range of second- and third-generation technology biofuels companies as well as some of the nation's largest biofuels feedstock providers. McAdams also serves as the executive director of the Advanced Biofuels Coalition. He is available for comment at +1.703.891.4816.
